

McGuireWoods LLP Adopts eRoom Service for DOCS to Provide Exceptional Knowledge Management Services to Clients

February 6, 2002

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Richmond, VA - McGuireWoods LLP, one of the nation's leading corporate law firms and Matrix Logic Corporation, a premier integrator of Hummingbird document management systems, announced that McGuireWoods LLP has implemented eRoom Service for DOCS, Matrix Logic's product integration between Hummingbird document management systems and eRoom, a secure, online digital workspace for collaboration services.

"At McGuireWoods, we constantly focus on improving client service," said Rodney A. Satterwhite, Chief Counsel/Knowledge Management. "One way we do this is through our knowledge management initiatives. Matrix Logic's eRoom Service for DOCS will create an unprecedented two-way conduit between two of our most important knowledge repositories: our internal document management system and McGuireWoods Connect, our collaborative client extranet. This tool sets us apart in harnessing the intellectual capital of our entire 600-lawyer firm and delivering it wherever our clients need it."

"Having a leading law firm like McGuireWoods embrace eRoom Service for DOCS is an outstanding validation of our technology" said Steve Page, President of Matrix Logic Corporation. "Leading organizations know that they can distinguish themselves by providing excellent customer service. Our software solution allows organizations to prepare, approve and deliver work product to customers much faster and effectively than ever before."

"We are very excited to work with McGuireWoods and Matrix Logic to achieve this significant technology milestone" said Barry Ruditsky, Vice President of Business Development for eRoom Technology, Inc. "This integration between eRoom and Hummingbird document management systems offers a very robust yet easy-to-use interface for enabling online collaboration across the enterprise."
